

GradMax: Growing Neural Networks using Gradient Information

Evci et al. | ICLR 2022

This fixture summarizes a real paper about adding neurons during training.

GradMax grows a network without disturbing learned behavior and initializes new weights to maximize useful gradients through an SVD-based procedure.

The paper reports improved training dynamics across several vision settings.